

Kimberly Sylvester strives to give her family the best. That means having a place to call home.

Kimberly Sylvester is a 39 year old single mother of three children (Micheal – 18, Eunice – 11 and Melody – 3 months). She was born in St. Lucia and raised in the U.S. Virgin Islands. She moved from there to Georgia seven years ago and has rented an apartment in Cobb County for that entire time. With the birth of her third child, she is especially in need of a larger home, now more than ever. Kimberly has worked for the Cobb County Board of Education as a special needs paraprofessional for the past five years, and loves her job immensely.

Kimberly is looking forward to owning her own home and will be the first in her family to do so. She is most excited about being able to set an example for her children and teaching them about the responsibility that goes along with home ownership. She sees the home that is offered through Habitat for Humanity as not just merely owning a home, but as an opportunity to build a solid foundation for the future for her and her family. She is also excited about the prospect of planting and maintaining a garden, much like she did as a child back in the Caribbean. She and her family are indeed ready to move forward in this next exciting chapter of their lives.
